

FrontEnd Developer

Joan Guinart Casas

As a Frontend Developer, I focus on detail, performance, and smooth, well-crafted interactions. With 3+ years of experience, I've worked on many types of projects and feel especially comfortable with Next.js. I'm a natural problem-solver — I take ownership of my work and look for practical, high-quality solutions without losing precision. In a team, I adapt to what the project needs while keeping a sustainable and healthy workflow. I value clean code, thoughtful decisions, and creating user experiences that not only work, but feel genuinely good to use.
